

In the Rear View Mirror: Writings from in the picture 1996-2006

This edition collects 15 articles written for the media education magazine, in the picture. Section one includes three pieces on changes to the curriculum whilst the second section considers teaching approaches to a variety of media and texts; including television, film, news and music. There is also a focus on representation and celebrity culture. The articles offer ideas of how to teach media now as giving a historical perspective of how media was taught around the turn of the century. Nick Lacey has written a number of media and film studies textbooks and is currently the curriculum leader of film and media at Benton Park School in Leeds.
